The Blessings of Biblical Values
Standing for Truth in the Culture

The Apostle John spoke of the spirit of the antichrist that is in the world conniving, plotting and conspiring against the church. It is an age-old battle. The devil is influencing people to go against their creator, offering what is wickedly presumed to be a better option.

The Conspiracy against Christ

John spoke that the spirit of the Antichrist is in the world, that it is against Christ, His Church, Believers, the Word and everything that God stands for. Those who follow Jesus have been attacked persecuted and hunted down more than any other group in history.

People suppress the truth of God purposefully

People know instinctively that God exists. The first chapter of the Book of Romans tells us that they suppress the truth of God by self-deception. People aren't threatened if you talk about God in generic terms, however the name of Jesus when invoked tends to bring a visceral response from some people. As Christians this should not surprise us because Jesus even said that they hated him and will also hate us.

Responding to critics

When it comes to those who voice contempt for us there are two basic objections both of which will be to addressed so that hopefully we can respond to this criticism by shedding some light on these inconsistent arguments against the Christian faith.

The inclusion illusion

We are often accused of not being inclusive or diverse enough. But that depends upon the individual slant of what it mean to be inclusive and diverse? The critic takes buzzwords that have been emptied of their meaning and uses them to bludgeon the person who dares to voice a Judeo-Christian worldview. But, the facts of real inclusivity and diversity among Believers is just the opposite of what the critics contends.

Diversity in Christianity

When you look at the diversity of cultures and ethnicities where the church has grown there is no doubt that Christianity by far has been the most diverse religion on the planet. From the Congo, to South America, to the middle east, to China and to the west, the gospel has a way of reaching into just about any tribe or group on the planet. Missionaries have taken to heart Jesus's command to carry the gospel to the furthest parts of the earth.
